SAY! STRANGER—have you been in LUDINGTON & Co's Store on the corner, since they have received their Fall stock of GOODS? If you have not, I really advise you to go It is a strange thing indeed to see such a quantity of Goods, and so equal an assortment, in any one store. I have often heard people say that they had a very large stock of Goods, but I never had an idea that their stock was so tremendously large I have been all around town, in their "Wholesale Stores," "Cheap Cash Stores," "One Price Store," "Great Excitement" Stores, "25 ℔ cent less than any other House in the Territory" stores. "Fancy Stores," "New Stores," "Western Stores," &c &c. but after visiting all, I put LUDINGTON & Co's store down at extra No. 1 You will find them willing to wholesale or retail Goods cheap for cash, at one fair price, without the least excitement, not 25 ℔ cent cheaper than any other store in town, and they have a fine assortment of Fancy Goods, and will sell as cheap as can be bought at any new store in this Western country They have, according to the best authority and my own observations, the largest and best selected assortment of Goods in Milwaukie, and their prices appear to give first rate satisfaction among the people It appears strange, but it is nevertheless true, that they should sell so many Goods to so many people. Why! you can hardly go into any town in Wisconsin but what you will see undoubted evidences that they are doing a tremendous large business. As far out as the Mineral region—yes! miles farther you will see dry goods boxes, barrels, kegs, &c &c with Ludington & Co's name on, which is a strong indication that they were sent there from their store, filled with Goods. Ask the principal residents of Milwaukie, Washington, Dodge, Walworth Portage, Fond du Lac, Marquette, and numerous other counties, where they buy their dry goods, groceries, hardware crockery, boots and shoes, leather, stone ware, wooden ware sash, glass, ropes paints oils, pork, fish, salt, lumber, lath and shingles, and Minor & Horton's celebrated unrivaled Ploughs—they will tell you at the "Old Corner Store" in Milwaukie Ask them still farther, where they sell their produce, wheat, corn, oats, barley, timothy and flax seed, beeswax, hides, &c &c and who gives the highest cash price and they will tell you LUDINGTON & Co of Milwaukie. oct9 C M

Commerce of the Lakes.

The busiest place along the Great Lakes at this season of the year is Buffalo. It is the receiving and distributing reservoir for a vast proportion of the produce now pouring from the West, and of the merchandize coming from the sea-board.—There is a good deal of business doing in Buffalo harbor throughout the season of navigation, but as the fall advances the utmost activity prevails in all the departments of commerce. When the steamer Empire, on her last trip up, came out of Buffalo, the harbor was so crowded from one extremity to the other with vessels receiving or discharging cargoes, that it was almost impossible to get in, or out. Indeed, there is not half space enough in Buffalo harbor to accommodate the present wants of the Lake Commerce, and yet that Commerce is still in its infancy. The next ten years, should no unforeseen drawback occur, will swell the number of the Lake Marine and the amount of Lake Commerce immensely. Buffalo must continue to be the chief port on the lower Lakes. But the harbor there is already tasked to its utmost capacity. It has no more spare room. Some other provision is required for the constantly increasing Commerce of our inland seas. An artificial harbor, exterior to Buffalo Creek, has been proposed and seems to be the only feasible plan of improvement. In the construction of this work, the aid of the General Government must be invoked, and as all the States bordering upon the Lakes are interested in the enterprise, we hope that their Representatives in Congress will spare no efforts to obtain the necessary appropriations, and that as speedily as may be.

We doubt whether any one who has not seen Buffalo at this particular season, can form a just conception of the extent or value of the Marine and Commerce of the Lakes. One or two facts, stated in the Buffalo Commercial of the 1st instant, will, we are sure, surprise even those most familiar with the subject.—During the month of October, the arrivals at Buffalo of steamers, propellers and sail craft, amounted to 360, the departures to 345, in all 705, an average of 23 a day. Among the articles composing the cargoes landed there in October were 163,000 barrels of flour, 428,800 bushels of wheat, 8171 barrels of beef, a million and a half pounds of cheese, and large quantities of corn, butter, lard, wool, hides, ashes, &c. During the same period 9762 tons of merchandize and 29,520 barrels of salt have been exported from Buffalo. How vastly important that the harbor, which is the scene of this immense and rapidly increasing business should be rendered safe, capacious and easy of access! Will not the Representatives of the West look to it, that this great interest is fully and speedily cared for?

Business at the Land Office.

The sales at the Milwaukie Land Office during October have been larger than in any previous month of the present year, and greatly exceed those in the corresponding month of the last year. We are indebted to the politeness of Mr. Helfenstein in the Receiver's Office for the facts we subjoin. The number of acres entered during October was 39,734. A small portion of these lands was sold at $2,50 per acre, being on the Canal Grant, but the greater bulk was disposed of at the usual price of ten shillings. The total amount received during the month was $50,573 87. Comparing this with October of last year we have the following result:

| | ACRES SOLD. | AMOUNT RECEIVED. |
|---|---|---|
| 1844, | 26,150 | $33,703 |
| 1845, | 39,734 | 50,573 |
| Gain in '45, | 13,584 | $16,870 |

Up to the 1st of October the number of acres of Land entered in 1845 exceeded the amount entered during the same period in 1844 by 36,776, while the receipts in the first nine months of 1845 were $48,392 greater than those of the corresponding months in 1844. Bringing the results for October into the calculation, the comparison between the two years will stand as follows:

| | ACRES SOLD. | AM'T RECEIVED. |
|---|---|---|
| 10 months in 1844, | 165,926 | $212,297 |
| 10 months in 1845, | 216,285 | 277,489 |
| Gain in '45, | 50,359 | $65,192 |

During the last two months of 1844 the number of acres entered was 30,220, and the sums received $39,092. It is altogether probable that the last two months of the present year will show a very considerable increase over these amounts. In an article upon this subject about five weeks since we ventured the opinion that the total sales at the Milwaukie Land Office during 1845 would embrace nearly 250,000 acres, and yield not far from $315,000. It now seems likely that the actual sales for the year will outrun our estimate. Business at the Land Office is still very brisk, and the tide of immigration seems to know no ebb. It is gratifying, too, to observe that the very great proportion of the entries for the last month, and indeed for the whole year, have been in 40 and 80 acre lots. It is this circumstance more than anything else that shows how large is the proportion of actual settlers among the thousands who are wending their way to Wisconsin, and how highly our fertile soil is prized by the farmers of the East.

THE INDEPENDENT ORDER OF WISE WOMEN.—Some of the good ladies of New England, justly indignant, like Mrs. Caudle, that their "better halves" should spend their evenings away from their wives and little ones, are forming Societies under the above imposing title. They meet upon the same evenings that the "Independent Order of Odd Fellows" assemble, at the very houses where the run-a-way husbands are masters—shut the doors against all gentlemen—and thus boldly defy the "Lords of Creation" This is bold and brave, and if it does not bring the "Odd Fellows" to terms, then they are incorrigible. The original cause of offence, on the part of the ladies, was, that the gentlemen had secrets and kept them from their wives and lady loves. The "wise women" have their secrets too, and mean to keep them—if they can. One of these societies is living and flourishing at Haverhill, Mass. Success to it.

AUTUMN.

BY A. BUDDINGTON.

There's a pensive tone in the Summer's rest,
When the Season's work is done,
When the vernal toil with the fruit is blest,
And the blade and the ear are grown—
There's a touching tone in the changing leaf,
A voice in the meadows sere,
In the rustling maize, in the gathered sheaf,
A voice in the waning year—
There's a silver haze in the mid-air hung,
A gentler breath on the air,
A chastened light on the landscape flung,
A mellowed beauty there.
I love to thread 'neath an Autumn sky
My way through the arching wood,
When the forest-tinged leaves in my pathway lie,
Or fall in a golden flood.
I love to gather the nuts which fall,
And hark to the surging sound
Of the squirrel's leap, when through chesnuts tall,
He springs with a reckless bound.
I love to cull from some aged stone
The moss in its velvet pride,
Or list to the soft and lulling tone
By the rippling streamlet's side.
I love to rest 'neath some aged oak,
On the trunk of a fallen tree,
Where the silence deep alone is broke
By the hum of the passing bee.
There's a grateful spell in a lonely hour,
A joy which the silence gives;
When the voice of the World hath lost its power,
'Tis then that the spirit lives.

* * * * * *

The orange robe on those maple trees,
And the Beechen's Tyrian dye,
When swept, alas! by the wintry breeze,
Will fall and unheeded lie.
The fading flower, the falling leaf,
Proclaim in a silent tone;
The running stream and the gathered sheaf,
All speak of a summer flown.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 1845.

"William J. Brown, a Representative in the last Congress from Indiana, has been appointed Second Assistant Postmaster General, in place of William Medill, Esq., of Ohio, now Commissioner of Indian Affairs.—[Washington Union.

The appointment of Chesselden Ellis, another member of the last Congress, as Governor of Iowa, is also announced in some of our Eastern exchanges. We have not kept the run of Executive appointments since Mr. Polk's term commenced, but our impression is that almost every Northern member of Congress who voted for the Texas iniquity, has received an office under the General Government. Honors and emoluments have been lavished upon the recreant Representatives who voted to "extend the area of Freedom" by adding millions of Slave Territory to our Republic. It is time, we think, that this prostitution of the Executive Patronage, which has been growing worse and worse these ten years past, should be finally and effectually stopped. It is time that the President of the U. States should be deprived of the power of carrying any favorite measure through Congress by a judicious distribution of jobs and offices among the members. It is time that Representatives should be made to understand that they cannot serve two masters, and that an election to Congress is no longer to be considered as a stepping stone to Executive favor. It is time, in short, that the practice of conferring office upon members of Congress should be entirely abolished, for so long as the President has it in his power to influence by this means the votes of Representatives, the People cannot expect to be faithfully served.

☞ Thompson's Bank Note Reporter of November 1st makes full amends to Milwaukie for the unintentional injustice done to it in a previous number, to which we alluded some four weeks since. The Reporter copies some of the statistical details which we published in the Sentinel, showing the progress and prospects of our thriving town, and thus corrects the error into which it had been led.

WILL YOU THINK?—The new account of the Register of the Treasury states that, during the fifty-six years' existence of our Federal Government, the entire expenditures of that Government, excluding principal of Public Debt, have been a little under One Thousand Millions of Dollars, which have been appropriated as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| For the Military service, | $286,998,357 |
| " Naval do | 179 933,124 |
| " Pensions, | 54,012,485 |
| Interest of Public Debt, | 42,494,855 |
| Total, | $663,438,821 |

The balance has been expended as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Principal of Revolutionary Debts and Claims, (est.) nearly | $100,000,000 |
| Civil List, | 63,855,525 |
| Foreign Intercourse, | 36,166,868 |
| *Indian Department, | 42,803.488 |
| †Miscellaneous, | 64,107,721 |
| Total very nearly | $306,933,602 |

*Including Payments for Indian Lands.
†Including, we presume, the purchase of Louisiana.

Thus we see that this most Christian nation, in something less than a life-time, has paid nearly Seven Hundred Millions of Dollars directly for the cost of War, or more than twice the cost of all its public service beside. The expenses of Foreign Intercourse and much else are indirectly created or exaggerated by the spirit of War. The real expenses of War, including the destruction of Property, the stoppage of Industry and Improvement, and the blocking up of our coasts and harbors, have been not less than Two Thousand Millions of Dollars, during these fifty-six years of almost unbroken Peace. What would be the cost of a seven years' War at this rate! What comparison do all our expenditures for Religious, Benevolent and Philanthropic purposes bear to those resulting from this infernal scourge? And how can any but the blackest hypocrite pretend to be a friend of Peace, of Human Progress, or of Religion, without setting his face sternly against all the projects of territorial aggrandizement which, however disguised, do really tend to plunge the country into the unutterable horrors of War!

THE DEATH LAMP—A person writing from France mentions the following curious scene which presented itself on his visit to the vaults of the church of St. Dennis, in which the French Kings are entombed:

"But the most singular of all other things is a lamp, which is kept burning on the coffin of Louis 18th, and which, it is said, is to be continued burning until Louis Philippe dies—he being the next king (if he dies on his throne) to whom the lamp will pass, until his successor dies. Napoleon did not die on the throne, neither did Charles 10th; consequently Louis 18th has not been buried, neither has the lamp ever been allowed to go out. It looks dreary and dark as midnight in that vault, and I involuntarily shuddered as I looked through the iron grating into the chamber of death, and viewed the dark pall upon the tomb. The light of the lamp was seen flickering through a dark cloud, as if it were buried in the chamber of death."

NIAGARA FALLS.

CATARACT HOUSE, Oct. 8.

About one and a half miles below the village, the "Niagara Falls Ferry Association" are constructing an avenue down the bank, similar to Buell avenue; they have about sixty men at work. They are also building a steam ferry boat, similar to the New York ferry boats, which will be about 100 feet long, handsomely furnished with saloons, cabins, &c., to cost about $10,000. They calculate the profits of the ferry will be more than the cost of the road and steamboat in two years.—The boat will commence running the first of May next.

The road will be finished about the 1st of December. The Ferry Association own about 200 acres of land at the head of the road, which is to be laid out in building lots, &c. Arrangements are also being made for constructing one of the largest Hotels, (if not the largest) in the U. States, near the head of the avenue, to be in the form of a hollow square, 200 feet front each way, with porticoes 100 ft. long, in the centre of the two principal fronts—the building to extend back 60 feet, and a range of galleries about 500 feet long extending around the inner side—the dining room to be 50 feet wide and 140 long, calculated to dine 800 persons; it is estimated to cost $35,000 for the main buildings, and $15,000 for furnishing. About four acres of land have been designated for its location, and the foundation is already marked out. It is also in contemplation to extend a canal from a point near Schloser to this place, so that steamboats can run from Buffalo direct to the hotel and ferry. The canal will also furnish water power to any extent required. Several plans have been suggested for crossing the the Niagara river by means of a bridge. It has been found upon measurement that the narrowest and almost feasible point is Belleview Springs, a few rods below the Ferry avenue. The distance between the tops of the banks has been found to be 700 feet, and the water way about 340 ft. just below the whirlpool. A wire suspension bridge across at the Springs, it has been estimated, will cost $200,000. It would in my opinion, be a cheaper plan to build a wooden bridge for the present; which could be built for between $75,000 and $100,000, and would combine nearly all the advantages of a wire bridge.

☞ We had a mail from Chicago last evening, but it brought no later dates from the East and no news from any quarter.

SPEAKING OF TWINS, we know of a farmer in Connecticut who has a pair of twin daughters of whom a capital anecdote is told. They both attended the same school, and not long since one of them was called up by the master to recite a lesson in geography, which she had learned very imperfectly, and in fact could not go on at all. The teacher who was getting quite out of patience, was called to another part of the room, and just at that moment the twin sister sprang to the floor unobserved, and pushing the delinquent scholar to her seat, took her place. The master proceeded with the questions, which were answered with a degree of promptness and accuracy which, at the close, drew forth from him a few words of commendation. The joke was not discovered by the teacher until some days after. Of course it was too good and successful to occasion any offence.—[Boston Times.

A MELANCHOLY PICTURE.—Died, at the Orange county poor-house, on Tuesday the 21st instant, John McAuley, aged about 55.

And he died in a poor-house!—John McAuley was the son of highly respectable parents who resided in Newburgh. He was their only son—dearly beloved, and tenderly watched over in his youth. Every advantage that education could bestow was his. He was a bright boy and a ripe scholar as he grew up. He graduated at Princeton College, and was well known to the present officers of that institution, and some of our prominent citizens who were with him at college. At the close of his collegiate life he bid fair to become one of the brightest ornaments of our country. But alas! his learning—his talents—his wit introduced him into a class of society which proved his ruin.

He was led on step by step until he became a drunkard. He entered the army during the late war with Great Britain, where, of course, his morals were not improved. Since that period he has led a miserable life. Sometimes, on a solemn pledge of reformation, he would obtain a school; but soon his propensities would overcome him, and he became, as it were, an outcast upon the earth. Still his learning, his talents, his fluency of speech and affability of deportment, never failed to secure to him a portion of respect wherever he went.

For many years (and even within a year or two past) he was accustomed to journey from his native county to Princeton, in order to be present at the annual commencement. On these journeys he would usually spend a day or two in Newark, where he would receive small donations to assist him on his way. He had lost his right arm, but wrote elegantly with his left hand. The last time we saw him he said he had signed the total abstinence pledge some months previous and had not broken it. His dress and whole appearance was miserable in the extreme. He returned to Orange county, and has since spent most of his time at the poor-house where he died.—[Newark Eagle.

A NAME.—One of the most singular surnames ever met with is that of a gentleman in Kent. His family name was Bear, and, as he had maternal relatives of the name of Savage, his parents gave him the Christian (or rather un-Christian) name of Savage. Hence he enjoyed the euphonious appellation of Savage Bear, Esq.

POSTAGE COMING UP.—The receipts of the Rochester Post Office were $2,323 for the last quarter, within $500 of the correspondent quarter of last year. The Post Office revenue will soon reach the old standard. There is no reason for the friends of cheap postage to doubt the complete success of the reform.

THE POTATO ROT IN NEW JERSEY.—We learn by the Burlington Gazette that Nathan Stowell, of that place, has been directing his attention for four years past, to the subject of rot in the potato, in hopes of discovering the cause of a disease which begins to threaten very serious consequences.—Mr. Stowell thinks the rot is owing to the sound seed having all run out, and that too little new seed has been produced. He has himself produced a fine crop of new potatoes from the tubers of the Foxite variety, and out of nearly fifty bushels, not a single potato is diseased. The vines are free from blight. A patch of Mercers, close by, were grievously afflicted with the rot.—[Trenton Gaz.

The editor of the New York Tribune has presented $50 to the Fire Department Fund for Widows and Orphans, and as a token of his gratitude for the successful exertions of the department in saving his property at the recent fire near the Tribune office.

An Incident of the War.

Commodore Stewart in his published vindication of his patriotism, so unfortunately questioned by Mr. Ingersoll, alludes to a peculiar and very striking incident relating to the capture of the Macedonian—or rather to the first communication of that event to the United States Government. In the Courrier and Enquirer we find a letter from the Hon. Lemuel Sawyer, who was a member of Congress at the time, giving a more circumstantial account of the same incident, as follows:

"I was present, though unintentionally, at the grand naval ball, given about the 14th of December, 1812, by the citizens of Washington, to Capt. Stewart, in return for the one he had given to them a little previous on board his ship. The ball was held at Tomlinson's Hotel, on Capitol Hill, where I boarded; and being somewhat indisposed, I had retired to bed just as the ball opened. The music, and the regular vibration of the floor to the motion of the dance, kept me awake.

I considered, as I was thus condemned to suffer the evil of the ball, I might as well compensate myself by its gratification. I arose, dressed myself, and entered the ball room. I found it well filled with the beauty and fashion of the place, and honored with the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Madison, and the heads of the departments, among whom were Paul Hamilton, the Secretary of the Navy, his lady and two handsome daughters. In the midst of our enjoyment, about 11 o'clock, a messenger came to the door and communicated some news secretly to the managers. They were then observed to whisper something to Mr. Hamilton, who had a private conversation with the President. Immediately it was buzzed about that a messenger had come and was waiting below, with the glad tidings of a signal victory of one of our ships over one of the British, with equal force.

In a moment, and without the least noise or confusion, an arrangement was made by the managers, to give full effect to the fortunate coincidence. The Secretary's impatience to run down stairs and meet his son was restrained, and a delegation of three gentlemen were appointed to wait on Mid. Hamilton and invite him up, with the trophy of victory of which he was the bearer—the flag of the Macedonian. An opening was left through the crowd of spectators, from the door to the back of the room. Secretary Hamilton and his family were placed at the bottom of the passage, and in front of the door, while the President and his lady, with the members of the cabinet, were arranged on each side.

A breathless silence prevailed. The ladies stood up on the back seats, between the columns that supported the ceiling, the whole length of the room, gazing with intense interest at the door. It may be mentioned that Mid. Hamilton had been absent two years, and that he had escaped by a miracle, from the conflagration of the Richmond theatre the winter before, by breaking through the sash of one of the upper windows, and leaping to the ground a distance of near 30 feet.

At length the head of the procession entered the room, consisting of Midshipman Hamilton, supported on each side by a member of the committee, followed by a train of gentlemen, having the captured flag. Young Hamilton, seeing his parents waiting for his approach with outstretched arms, with modest demeanor and accelerated steps, threw himself into the arms of his mother, who hid her face in his bosom, overcome by her feelings of silent joy; from thence he tore himself to grasp his father's hand in a long and cordial shake, and ended by receiving and returning the enraptured embraces of his sisters. As soon as this highly dramatic scene was over, one sudden burst of huzzas resounded through the room. The flag was paraded and marched around the room to the tune of Hail Columbia—after which, it was brought before Mrs. Madison and laid at her feet, but she did not tread on it, as some of the opposition papers alleged.

You may well suppose that this new and unexpected feature in the ceremony gave an increased zest to the entertainment, and that it went off with charming and enhanced gusto. Young Hamilton was a very handsome officer, and invested as he was with the virgin honors of this great naval victory, which dissolved the charm of British invincibility on the ocean was the cynosure of all the fair eyes present; but he bore his triumphs and his honors meekly. He was promoted to a lieutenancy and in that capacity was cut in two by a chain shot, in the action of the President with the Endymion, or rather a British squadron, off the coast of Rhode Island a few months afterwards, while he was bravely discharging his duty under the gallant Decatur.

PENNSYLVANIA.—A correspondent of the United States Gazette, writing from Harrisburg, expresses the most perfect confidence that the February interest of the State debt will be promptly paid. The amount of available funds in the Treasury on the 1st inst. was $240,000.

T. H. CRAWFORD, late commissioner of Indian Affairs has been appointed Judge of the Criminal Court for the District of Columbia. Hon. W. Medill of Ohio has been appointed to Mr. Crawford's late office.

SOMETHING NEW.—Free Lectures!—Professor Porter, of the city of New York, would respectfully announce to the ladies and gentlemen of Milwaukie, that he will deliver two gratuitous Lectures only on a new system of Arithmetic and Mathematics, on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 11 and 12, at Military Hall, commencing punctually at 7 o'clock.

By this system all our business calculations are performed by ONE RULE ONLY, examples that would in common Arithmetics require 8 or 10 statements, and some 4 or 500 figures, may be wrought by this system with only one statement, without multiplying figures; and in almost a single turn of the pen, with only 15 or 20 figures, and produce the same result.

Prof. Porter will solve Problems on the blackboard, under the various rules used in Mercantile and Mechanical transactions, thereby enabling the audience to judge of its merits. Professional men, gentlemen, merchants, mechanics, manufacturers, agriculturalists, laborers, and the public generally are respectfully invited to attend.

P. S. Books, giving a full explanation and demonstration of the system, will be offered for sale immediately after the Lecture. Price of the books $2 and fifty cents.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.—Fever one of the most frequent and dangerous diseases to which the human body is liable. Its first impression is upon the nervous system; then the vessels of the skin become deranged, producing dryness and burning heat. After this the general system is involved, and the pat ent sinks beneath the attack, unless relieved by appropriate remedies. Noxious effluvia and various miasmas are the cause of fever, being diffused throughout the atmosphere, and then breathed into the lungs, when the poison combines with the impure fluids of the body and is carried by the circulating organs to the remote ramifications of the system If then, the animal frame is kept in a perfect sound and healthy state, and every organ performing its functions properly, there can be no union of the procreating cause, which is the noxious effluvia or foul exhalations, with the excretions, which in an impure state of the blood, and depraved condition of the general constitution, and consequently no disease.

For farther particulars and conclusive evidence of its superior value and efficacy; see pamphlets, which may be obtained of agents gratis.
